Hannah's Tips

MAKING A GOOD SOUND - Many believe the bow is the soul of the violin. Well I don't know about that but it certainly is the voice, and with this in mind it is crucial that we always play with a good open sound. Before you begin your practice play an open string many times with a big loud bow. If you feel it vibrate through the violin this is good. Now place your second finger (in tune) on the string and try to recreate this beautiful sound. You will probably need more bow, and to push down a little bit more. Make sure you are holding your bow correctly, and then repeat each string.
